

The Caledonian Mercury.

Edinburgh, Thursday, January 29, 1747.

From the London Gazette, Jan. 24.

Naples, Jan. 3.

ON the 1st instant, anchored in this Port, two Transports with 180 Soldiers from Barcelona, as did on the 2d five other Transports from Martega, with the dismounted Dragoons of the King's Regiments of Tarragona and Rouffillon.

Florence, Jan. 9. N. S. The greatest Diligence is used all over Tuscany to furnish Leghorn with Provisions of all Sorts to be sent to the Armies, as they are now almost solely supplied from thence. Vice Admiral Medley has sent two of his Britannick Majesty's Ships into the Channel of Piombino, which will oblige the Neapolitan Gallies and armed Barks, which render'd the transporting of Provisions from this State very hazardous, to withdraw. The said Admiral has likewise sent another Ship to Leghorn, to conduct the Vessels that were laden with Provisions to Villa Franca; and has desired his Britannick Majesty's Minister here, to give Assurances to the Emperor's Agents at Leghorn, that he will take Care to appoint Convoys for this Purpose for the future.

Florence, Jan. 10. N. S. We are informed from the Western Coast of Genoa, that General Brown continued his Operations in Provence, and that the Fortrefs of Antibes was greatly reduced. The King of Sardinia has sent General Brown another Train of 18 Pieces of Battering Artillery from Savona; and his Majesty was to set out the 9th instant for Turin. A large Detachment of his Majesty's Troops was preparing to join Marshal Botta, in order to act vigorously against the Genoese; for which Purpose Admiral Medley had detached from his Squadron five Ships of War to block up the Port of Genoa; from whence there is Advice, that the Disturbances there were greatly ceased, the Doge and Senate having caused 14 of the Chiefs of the People to be arrested, for their having committed many Disorders, and extorted Money from every Body. The Government, however, it is said, was resolved to oppose any Foreign Troops, and to defend their Liberty as much as lay in their Power, having for that Purpose placed Bodies of Troops, with the necessary Artillery, &c. to guard the Passage of the Bochetta, and other Posts.

Vienna, Jan. 18. Count Schulemberg went away the Day before Yesterday, and will only stay a Day or two at Venice with his Uncle Marshal Schulemberg, in his Way to Novi, where it is hoped he will find every Thing ready on the Part of this Court, and concerted with that of Turin, for the Recovery of Genoa.

Hague, Jan. 27. N. S. The Letters from France received this Day say, that no one is yet fixed on to succeed M. Puyfieux at Breda; that M. de St. Severin had excused himself from accepting that Employment; and M. Maccanas had deferred his Journey till the Choice of the French Minister should be finally determined.

They likewise mention, that they had Advice from Grace of the 12th, that the Trenches were opened before Antibes the Night before, and that the Place had been in a Manner reduced to Ashes by the Bombardment: That the Austrians had established four Bridges upon the Var, and seemed determined to maintain their Ground in Provence; and that the French Army was distressed for Forage, having already exhausted Dauphine and Provence, and being obliged to bring it from Languedoc, whilst Count Brown was supplied with it by Sea.

From Wye's Letter, London, Jan. 24.

We should have acquainted you in our last, that the Hon. the House of Commons put off the Call of the House to that Day Fortnight, and that they agreed with the Report of the Committee on the Supply for granting one Million towards paying the Debt of the Navy.

Yesterday the Commons went into a grand Committee of the whole House, on Ways and Means. — A Motion was made for laying a Duty on Coaches, Chariots, Chaises, &c. in Great Britain, and after long Debate, came to several Resolutions, to be reported on Monday. — Read a 2d Time, and committed to a Committee of the whole House on Wednesday next, the Bill for laying a Duty on Houses and Window Glasses. — Ordered to go into a Committee on the Supply on Monday next, to which Time they adjourned.

From the London Evening Post, Jan. 24.

Last Thursday the Court sat at St. Margaret's Hill, Southwark, when

He is succeeded in his Title and Estate by his Son, now Sir Lodovick Grant, Member of Parliament for the Shire of Murray.

Yesterday Archibald Stewart, Esq; late Lord Provost of Edinburgh, Member of Parliament for that City, was admitted to Bail before his Grace the Duke of Newcastle, Sir Arthur Forbes, Bart. David Scott of Scotstarvit, and James Oswald Esqrs. and three other Gentlemen, being bound in large Recognizances for his Appearance.

The breaking of the Scots Vassallage is attended with so many Difficulties, as to render the Scheme impracticable; it being an Affair of so delicate a Nature, as to require some Time to bring it to Maturity.

A Peer, eminent for his Dignity and Wit, upon a Visit to a Lady of Quality, was asked, on the present Emergency, why a Tax was not laid upon Husbands? He replied, It would be cruel, at this Juncture, when there is so great a Mortality among the borneyd Cattle.

We are informed that General Husk will have the Command of his Majesty's Forces in Scotland; and that a Camp will be formed near Fort Augustus, which is to consist of 7000 Men, as soon as the Weather will permit.

We hear a select Committee will be shortly appointed, to inspect into the Conduct of the Navy.
